I don't know how it all eventually turned out. I left about 10am today. I figured I had sold everything I brought and had seen everything for sale. It was great fun with excellent weather.

Cheers

Great pics as usual Nick. I especially appreciate the clear pics of the prices, when so labelled.

Hi Nick,

Tnx for the pix, and showing my stuff, too.

I left at abt 3PM Sat. I'd sold everything except some misc. stuff. Didn't buy anything. If I'd stayed o'nite, it'd just to see what came in new on Sat. There were a lot of spaces that appeared to have been paid for on Sat., but vacant. Did most of those get occupied Sat. AM? Hopefully a good crowd showed up to buy stuff.

tnx, 73,

Al, W8UT

Hi Nick and all,

The family and I just got back to Huntsville AL from Shelby. Long story short, Robby (our 17 YO son) and I always make the Huntsville Hamfest as one of our yearly father / son things, and due to work being a complete freaking zoo, I got the date messed up and we missed it. So we dropped everything and made plans to go to Shelby.

Due to doctor appointments on Thursday, we drove out Friday (nice drive from N AL to Asheville NC), stayed the night in Asheville, then drove out to the 'fest Saturday morning. Parking was about half full when we got there and we walked around the place several times.

My son scored - there's a picture in Nick's photos of a Casiotone keyboard in it's original box...that came back with us for a really good deal. The son is into retro computer stuff especially synth music, and the Casio is a mixed analog / digital synth so he's pretty stoked.

I was tempted by the RME-45, but the silver repainted panel wasn't for me. I was also tempted by the pair of RBA's (san's case) but already have one waiting it's turn on the bench. I saw a military-badged Hammarlund (not super-pro) for $55 on the "half off" tarp but it was really, really rough. An NC-100 series set (not sure of exact model, but didn't have the extra bolt-on tuner) also called out to me, but the dial scale was rough and the seller reported that it had been recapped some time ago so that was a pass for me. LOTS of other other BA's out there, but I'm mostly into octal / WWII / military stuff, so the R-390A's and 51J4's and R-389's didn't get much of a look from me as they are just not me.

So what did I come home with? Nothing. Like I told my son, I've already got so much waiting for it's turn on the bench that I really didn't need to be looking for anything. :)

Nice drive out there - Asheville is nice - the people at Shelby were very nice so we may make the drive out again as part of a family vacation.

Thanks much and 73,

ben, kd5byb
